

GONCHIGKHAND BYAMBAA

Gonchighkhand Byambaa, an experienced community worker, specializes in serving Traveller and other nomadic communities.

Presently, she holds the position of a community liaison officer at STAG, where she actively engages with these communities. Additionally, Gonchighkhand is an anti-racism trainer, providing her expertise to various community organizations and companies.

HOW HAS THE STAND PROJECT HELPED YOU?

"The STAND Project is giving me a platform to tell our stories. Training has helped me to understand policies and relevant regulations about anti-racism in Ireland."

WHAT DO YOU LOOK FORWARD TO WORKING ON AS A STAND TRAINER?

"I am excited about the opportunity to invite a broader community to listen to our stories! I strongly believe in the transformative power of storytelling, especially when combined with suggested research-based solutions. Together, they have the potential to foster an inclusive society. "

The STAND Project is supported by
Rethink Ireland & IHREC